

Photography saved my life Florin (Romania)

At age 16 I was diagnosed with rheumatoid arthritis; now I am 35 years old. From that time photography became my passion and later, my profession. Despite all my pain and problems with mobility, I have never stopped meeting people and being an active member of the community here in Piatra Neamt, Romania. Because of my passion, friends and good treatment I can enjoy my life and my work. I hope that my work will be a testimony to friendship, hope and passion.

“Because of my passion,
friends and good treatment I can enjoy my life and my work.”

WORKING WONDERS

Celebrating the positive contribution people with rheumatic diseases can make to work

eular

A project by the European League Against Rheumatism